It may also be included on notice boards in our premises.

We will assess the hazards and risks faced by our workforce in the course of their work and take action to control those risks to an acceptable, tolerable level.

Our Managers and Supervisors are made aware of their responsibilities and required to take all reasonable precautions to ensure the safety, health and welfare of our workforce and anyone else likely to be affected by the operation of our business.

This business intends meeting its legal obligations by providing and maintaining a safe and healthy working environment so far as is reasonably practicable. This will be achieved through;

- the provision of health and safety leadership in identifying and controlling health and safety risks so identified;
- consultation with our employees on matters affecting their health and safety;
- the provision and maintenance safe plant and equipment;
- ensuring the safe handling and use of substances;
- the provision of necessary information, instruction and training for our workforce, taking account of any who do not have English as a first language;
- making sure that all workers are competent to do their work, and giving them appropriate training;
- the prevention of accidents and cases of work related ill health;
- the active management and supervision of health and safety at work issues;
- having access to competent advice;
- the provision of the necessary resource required to make this policy and our health and safety arrangements effective;
- aiming for a continuous improvement in our health and safety performance and management through a process of regular audit and review; and
- reviewing this policy and associated arrangements on a periodic basis using findings from the audit process, staff consultations and incident investigation to guide change.

We also recognise;

- our duty to co-operate and work with other employers when we work at premises or sites under their control to ensure the continued health and safety of all those at work; and
- our duty to co-operate and work with other employers and their workers, when their workers come onto our premises or sites to do work for us, to ensure the health and safety of everyone at work.

To help achieve our objectives and ensure our workforce recognise their duties under health and safety legislation whilst at work, we will also remind them of their duty to take reasonable care for themselves and for others who might be affected by their activities. These duties are explained on first employment at induction and also set out in an Employee Safety Handbook, given to each worker, which sets out their duties and includes our specific health and safety rules. In support of this policy we have prepared a responsibility chart and specific arrangements.

ANTI-BULLYING POLICY

Purpose

As part of our commitment to the fairness, dignity and respect of each employee, any form of bullying will not be tolerated by this company. The aim of this Policy is to indicate what constitutes bullying and what action the company will take if it becomes necessary to deal with an offence of this nature.

Scope

This Policy is applicable to all employees (temporary and permanent) irrespective of length of service and includes clients and service personnel both inside and outside the work environment.

Policy

The company acknowledges the right of all employees to a workplace and environment free from any form of bullying. Every member of staff has an obligation to be aware of the effects of their own behaviour on others.

Any instances of bullying will be dealt with in an effective and efficient manner. In cases where the behaviour is proved to be repeated and consistent, causing unnecessary stress and anxiety, this will be considered gross misconduct. The company reserves the right to use the disciplinary procedure up to and including summary dismissal.

As part of this company's code of conduct, it is imperative that all staff and suppliers respect the dignity of every colleague. Please consider the multi-cultural beliefs of all of your colleagues regarding your code of conduct, with particular reference to remarks, dress code, posters, e-mails and anything which may cause offence on the grounds of a person's gender, civil status, race, religion, family status, age, sexual orientation or disability or to a member of the traveller community.

Definition

The Code of Practice on the Prevention of Workplace Bullying defines bullying as:

“Repeated inappropriate behaviour, direct or indirect, whether verbal, physical or otherwise, conducted by one or more persons against another or others, at the place of work and or in the course of employment, which could reasonably be regarded as undermining the individual's right to dignity at work. An isolated incident of the behaviour described in this definition may be an affront to dignity at work but, as a one off is not considered to be bullying”.

The following are examples of the types of behaviour that may be considered as bullying and are prohibited by the company:

Purposely undermining an individual

- a) Targeting an individual for special negative treatment
- b) The manipulation of an individual's reputation

- c) Social exclusion or isolation
- d) Intimidation, aggressive or obscene behaviour
- e) Jokes which are obviously offensive to one person
- f) Intrusion by pestering, spying and stalking

This list is not exhaustive and only serves as a guideline to employees. Each case will be taken in isolation and dealt with in the appropriate manner. For behaviour to be considered to be bullying, it must be behaviour which can be described as outrageous, unacceptable, and exceeding all bounds tolerated by decent society.

From time to time, disciplinary and corrective action may be taken against an employee and, where such action is taken in respect of an employee in good faith, this will not be considered to be bullying behaviour. Furthermore, where actions are taken which can be justified on the basis of protecting the safety, health and welfare of employees then such actions will not be considered to be bullying behaviour.

Procedures for Dealing with Bullying

Informal Procedure

An informal approach can often resolve difficult situations with the minimum of conflict and stress for the individuals involved. This in no way diminishes the issue of the effects on the individual.

If you feel you are being bullied you should attempt to explain to the alleged bully that their behaviour is unacceptable. If you find it difficult to approach the alleged bully alone then seek help and advice from the nominated contact person. They will listen, be supportive and explain the various options open to you.

You may ask the contact person to assist you with raising the issue with the alleged bully. The contact person will approach the alleged bully in a confidential, non-confrontational discussion to try to resolve the matter in a low-key manner.

If you decide to bypass the informal procedure, for whatever reason, and choose to go down the formal route then this will not reflect negatively on you in any way.

Formal Procedure

If the informal approach is not appropriate, or if after using the informal procedure, the bullying continues, then the formal procedure will be invoked.

A formal written complaint must be given to your Manager, Director or Proprietor or a nominated person or member of the management team. The complaint should only contain precise details of actual incidents of bullying. A letter will be sent to the alleged bully to inform them that a formal complaint has been made against them. A copy of the complaint will be given to them and they will be given the opportunity to respond to the allegations.

An initial examination will be carried out by a designated, impartial person or member of the management team who will determine the appropriate course of action to be taken e.g. a mediated solution or attempt to resolve the situation informally or decide if it should be progressed to a formal investigation. If these courses of action prove to be inappropriate or inconclusive, then a formal investigation of the complaint will take place to determine the facts and credibility of the allegations.

Investigation

The investigation will be carried out by a designated person or member of the management team or, if necessary, in the case of any possible conflict of interest, an agreed external third party. In either case, the person nominated should be familiar with the procedures involved. The investigation will be thorough, objective and confidential. It will be conducted with sensitivity and respect for the rights of the complainant and the alleged bully.

The designated investigator will meet with the complainant, the alleged bully and any witnesses or other relevant persons individually. The purpose of these meetings is to establish the facts about the allegations, set a timeframe for the procedure and will be completely confidential.

The complainant and the alleged bully have the right to be accompanied by a work colleague or employee/trade union representative.

The person investigating the complaints will make every effort to carry out and complete the investigation as quickly as possible. When the investigation is complete, a written report will be submitted to management which will contain the findings of the investigation.

Both the complainant and the alleged bully will be given the opportunity to comment on the findings of the investigation before any action is decided by management.

Management will inform the complainant and the alleged bully, in writing, about the findings of the investigation.

Outcome

For behaviour to be considered to be bullying, it must be behaviour which can be described as outrageous, unacceptable, and exceeding all bounds tolerated by decent society. If it is decided that the complaint is well founded then a formal interview will be conducted with the alleged bully to determine an appropriate course of action. This may include counselling, monitoring or progressing the issue through disciplinary and grievance procedures.

In the event of the findings of the investigation concluding that the complaint was untrue and was brought with a malicious or vexation intent then disciplinary action will be taken against you up to and including dismissal.

RELEVANT LEGISLATION

In most cases Health and Safety legislation requires common sense, reasonably practicable precautions to avoid the risk of injury or ill-health at work. Our Health and Safety Management System does not quote specific legal references; giving instead the information and detail of what is required in practice to secure compliance. If the guidance and requirements of our Health and Safety Management System are adopted compliance with the legal requirements will be achieved.

This page sets out, for the record, details of the main statutes and regulations affecting health and safety at work that were in force when this policy was prepared. The BusinessSafe Online Reference Library contains a similar list which will always be up to date. The document is titled 'Health and Safety Legislation (IRL).

Not every piece of the legislation will apply to our operation on a day to day basis, but we need to be aware of them should circumstances change.

Further detail and access to the specific wording of each of these legal requirements is available from the BusinessSafe 24 Hour Advice Service on 01 855 5050.
